

KOREAN RADIOLOGICAL TECHNOLOGISTS ASSOCIATION (KRTA)

The Korean Radiological Technologists Association has been an essential contributor to the improvement of the nation's health over the past 50 years. With the foundation of the Korean Accreditation Board of Specialized Radiological Technologists in 2003, along with the National License Examination, the KRTA has produced a significant number of accomplished radiological technologists who uphold the highest standards of professionalism. Our 35,000 members are assiduous contributors in various domestic and international conferences such as the East Asia Conference of Radiological Technologists and Asia Australasia Conference of Radiological Technologists. We are actively engaged in volunteering our medical services and also work to publicize our role as radiological technologists to the public.
